A MESSAGE FROM SUPERVISOR ED SMYTH

January 2026

Happy New Year Everyone –

I hope your holidays were happy and memorable.

The Town was abuzz this holiday season with so much exciting and festive events to make the season bright. From the Nautical Holiday Parade, Holiday Spectacular Tree Lighting, and Sled Hockey tournaments with the Stanley Cup to Drone Sky Shows and New Year celebrations, Huntington was truly a destination this holiday season. At the close of 2025, we took a short look back on achieving our goal to get our maintenance issues in check. With each department now on a sustainable schedule, we are ready to move forward.

Effective immediately in 2026, the Town of Huntington will be on a 3-year customer service initiative. The Town team will be focusing on servicing our residents needs effectively and efficiently. Whether they are calling Town Hall to get an answer to a question or reaching out to solve a local issue, I have instructed each department to commit to resolving concerns and issues quickly and congenially.

As we move through the coming year, customer service will be the corner stone of everything that we do. Our mission - to provide good government service to anyone who may need assistance from the Town. As we gear up for another year that will assuredly be filled with challenges, it is our hope that your every experience with Town government will be met with competence, understanding and resolve. On behalf of the entire Town of Huntington, I want to wish you all a very happy, healthy and, prosperous New Year.

Sincerely,

Ed Smyth
Supervisor

HAPPY
New Year

SUPERVISOR'S SIDENOTE

A brief look at some of the Town's recent initiatives

CDA Serves the Community

Special thanks to the CDA for their hard work and for all that they do to serve those who need it most. After the success of their Thanksgiving food drive and turkey giveaway, the CDA hosted a Christmas food drive and giveaway to ensure families in Huntington were able to enjoy a full Christmas meal. They collected water and non-perishable food items, after which they packed and distributed them to families in Huntington.

Annual Skate with a Cop

The Suffolk County Police Department Second Precinct and the Clark Gillies Arena, co-sponsored the Town of Huntington, hosted the annual Skate with a Cop event. Attendees enjoyed gifts, hot chocolate, photos with Santa, and, of course, plenty of ice skating. Special thanks to all those who participated in and helped to organize this event. We look forward to seeing you all next year.

Geraldine "Gerry" Munno gives over 20 years of service to the Town

Gerry began her service with the Town in October 2005. Gerry's career with the Town of Huntington has been marked by dedication and teamwork. We are endlessly thankful for her service to the residents of Huntington and wish her the very best in her retirement.

David DeRosa retires after nearly 29 years with the Town of Huntington.

David started with the Town back in 1990 as a summer clerk and joined us full-time in 1997. He serves as a GIS Technician II in the Department of Planning & Environment. Thank you David, for your dedication and service.

Happy New Year

Dear Neighbor –

What a beautiful holiday season we just experienced. I hope you were all able to fill your time with heartfelt family moments, delicious foods from you and your loved one's culture, and sentimental and memorable gift exchanges. The holidays are so magical. Seeing everyone give a little extra is always beautiful. Although this time of year is coming to an end, it does not mean the generosity has too as well. The start of the new year brings new beginnings. As you decide what your resolution will be I urge you to keep the kindness and generosity of the holidays alive. Giving back is one of the most meaningful things that we are able to do.

Volunteerism is so important and so overlooked. In a world full of violence, injustice, and division, be a unifying force. Strive every day to make yourself and your community better. Your efforts do not need to be large. Donations are not strictly monetary. A few hours at a food pantry like Island Harvest or Long Island Cares each month could help keep needy families from worrying about where their next meal is coming from. It could make one less child go to sleep hungry. To volunteer for a day at an animal shelter, like Little Shelter, means a few more dogs are played with, fed, and socialized. Even donating one sweater to Big Brothers Big Sisters could turn into a person in need's new favorite clothing item.

I know and love not only the Town of Huntington, but the people here. You all make this place so special to live in. Even if your resolution is not related to getting more involved in volunteering, try to incorporate kindness into whatever it might be. Whether it is to go to the gym more, help someone who is struggling learn how to use the equipment. If your resolution is to save more money, tell a friend who has been trying to do the same, and share tips and plans together. Maybe if your resolution is to go on more walks, take a second and smile at someone you pass. Whatever it may be, remember that kindness and love always win and one small act of kindness has a chance of changing lives.

Happy New Year everyone. Let's make 2026 a special one.

Sincerely,

--Christine Geed Liberty

COUNCIL'S CORNER

Meet the newly elected Councilwoman – Jennifer Hebert

Jennifer Hebert, the newly elected Councilwoman for the Town of Huntington, brings with her decades of community involvement, educational leadership, and a strong commitment to public service. Councilwoman Hebert has worked on behalf of the Huntington community since she and her husband, Jamie, moved to the area 30 years ago to start their family. Drawn by Huntington's rich history, diverse population, and welcoming neighborhoods, they chose the town as the ideal place to raise their three sons—Ben, Will, and Sam—all proud graduates of Huntington High School.

An educator by profession, Councilwoman Hebert holds a Master's degree in the Art of Teaching from Tufts University. Her career spans multiple facets of education, including service as a public school teacher in Massachusetts, a nursery school classroom teacher, and an administrator. For the past 12 years, she has served as Director of St. John's Nursery School in Huntington Village, where she has guided and enriched the lives of Huntington's youngest learners and supported countless local families.

In addition to her work in early childhood education, Councilwoman Hebert dedicated nine years to the Huntington School Board, serving as a trustee, vice president, and president. She credits her time on the board as a formative experience that reinforced the importance of teamwork, thoughtful governance, and representing the diverse voices of the community. She currently continues her civic involvement as a member of the board of the Huntington Public Library.

Known for her common-sense approach to issues and her collaborative leadership style, Councilwoman Hebert is prepared to bring her experience, energy, and dedication to the Town of Huntington Town Council. She is honored by the opportunity to serve and looks forward to continuing her lifelong commitment to the community she proudly calls home.

An amazing moment swearing in the newest class of the **Huntington Youth Bureau Youth Court — "Justice for Youth by Youth."** Before being sworn in, these dedicated youth volunteers completed a **ten-week training program**, meeting two hours per week to study topics such as **conflict resolution, juvenile law, trial procedures, and courtroom etiquette**. They learned how to prosecute and defend, deliver opening and closing statements, and properly address the judge. After training, they successfully passed a **"bar exam"** and participated in practice **mock trials**, guided by local attorneys who generously donated their time.

Congratulations to this new class!

Let's Go Islanders, Let's Go!"

We welcomed the NY Islanders/NHL and USA Hockey Sled Hockey Classic to Huntington!

The Classic kicked off Thursday morning at the Clark Gillies Arena / Dix Hills Ice Rink, and it was truly an honor for the Town of Huntington to serve as one of the municipal hosts.

Huntington was proud to roll out the red carpet and support this meaningful event that highlights the power of adaptive sports and the spirit of teamwork, perseverance, and community. A sincere thank you to everyone who helped make this event such a success — and to the athletes who reminded all of us what grit and passion look like in action.

We're grateful to have played a part in a weekend that brought so much pride and excitement to our community.

COUNCIL'S CORNER

A Final Farewell from Councilman – Salvatore Ferro

When I first ran for elective office it was with the intent of participating in a public process that would allow me to be a force for positive change; It was – and always had been – about protecting the quality of life of my community. It was – and always has been – about strengthening our township - whether it was something as simple as seeking new playground equipment in a park or advocating for economic investment that would create tax revenue that - in turn - would lessen the burden on our homeowners. It was always about serving.

During my tenure as a public servant, I have had the honor of working with people and organizations for whom I have gained enormous respect. Groups like The Greenlawn Civic Association, Melville and SweetHollow Civics, Centerport Harbor Civics and more. People who care about our community and step up. I worked with the Opioid and Addiction Task Force as well as the Citizens Action Committee for people with Disabilities. Groups that are dedicated to making a difference for others. I have also been blessed to work with outstanding town employees, directors, board members and a supervisor who is a true leader.

Huntington Town is a vibrant, welcoming community. It is due, in part, to the work of my fellow elected officials and government colleagues and the dedication and commitment from our Directors and employees , many who I have come to call my friends. I will miss our shared mission but I will always remember my time here with pride and with the knowledge that - together - we have enhanced the community we love and have protected its future through thoughtful public policies that seek to proactively manage change.

I once said that our founding fathers had it right. They believed our new nation should avoid having professional politicians who stay on the job for decades. Essentially; do what you came for, do it well, and then go home. As I conclude my role as a Huntington Town councilman I look back with pride – having accomplished what I set out to do. I take with me the knowledge that government works best when its elected officials are able to assist people in a real and genuine way, I would hope my legacy will reflect that.

Thank you all – and God bless our nation and those who defend it.

Understanding Your Tax Bill

Every resident should know where their taxes are going. This pie chart of an average Huntington tax bill will help you understand what percentages of your taxes are going where.

The Town of Huntington only makes up approximately 7% of your total tax bill. The Town percentage of your tax bill is the only portion that the Town controls. Your bill is broken down into individual taxing districts. Please review your individual Tax bill to see your specific breakdown.

A few taxing districts have independent community budget votes. All registered voters can vote for these budgets.

They include:

- School
- Library
- Fire Department

KEY DATES TO REMEMBER:

All Exemption Applications are due by March 1, 2026 See Our Website or come in for required forms

Grievance Day is May 19, 2026
Grievance Forms will be available on 4/1/26

This is a busy time for our office but, we are always here to assist our residents. As we welcome the New Year the Town Assessor's Office has two very important pieces of information that we want to share with our residents.

The first is regarding our VETERANS. On December 19, 2025, the New York State Legislature adopted Bill S.1183 that amends the real property tax law, to establish a real property tax exemption for veterans who have a one hundred percent service-connected disability. As the new state law outlines, after opting in, the Town of Huntington must work to include the Primary Residence as a tax exemption of any seriously disabled Veteran who meets the qualification outlined in the law. (Please make particular note of (IV). * Qualifications include:

- Discharged or released therefrom under honorable conditions;
- Has a qualifying condition, as defined in section one of the Veterans' services law, and has received a discharge other than bad conduct or dishonorable from such service;
- Is a discharged LGBT Veteran, as defined in section one of the Veterans' services law, and has received a discharge other than bad conduct or dishonorable from such service; and is considered to be permanently and totally disabled as a result of military service;
- Is rated one hundred percent disabled by the United States Department of Veterans Affairs;
- Has been rated by the United States Department of Veterans Affairs as individually unemployable; and
- (*) Veterans who are eligible for pecuniary assistance from the United States Government, or has received pecuniary assistance from the United States Government and has applied such assistance toward the acquisition or modification of a suitable housing unit with special features or movable facilities made necessary by the nature of the veterans' disability.

ASSESSOR'S INSIGHT

We know many of our Veterans and their families have been waiting a long time for this legislation to pass. We want to assure everyone that the Town is working diligently with State and County officials to coordinate the logistics of this exemption and ensure that the Town is ready to enact this exemption as soon as possible.

The Town of Huntington is planning to opt in to this new exemption for Huntington Town Veterans by a Resolution in early 2026.

The second announcement is regarding ENHANCED STAR

If you are a SENIOR receiving the BASIC Star exemption, you will no longer need to contact the Assessor's Office to request the ENHANCED STAR exemption.

Starting in 2026, the New York State Department of Taxation and Finance will reach out to you directly if you qualify for the upgrade, and if approved, NYS will notify the Assessor.

New York State revised the filing and approval procedure for all Enhanced STAR applications.

For more information, visit (tax.ny.gov).

PUBLIC SAFETY SNAPSHOT

SNOW AND ICE COVERED SIDEWALKS

Dear Residents,

As we move through the winter season, we would like to kindly remind everyone of the Town's requirements regarding snow and ice removal from sidewalks to help keep our community safe and accessible for all.

Per Town Code §173-16, the owner, tenant, and/or occupant of any property that fronts or abuts a public street is responsible for maintaining all adjoining sidewalks (front, rear, and sides) and keeping them free and clear of snow and ice.

Please note the following timeframes:

- Residential properties: Snow and ice must be removed within 24 hours after snowfall has ended.
- Commercial properties: Snow and ice must be removed within 12 hours after snowfall has ended.
- The hours between 9:00 p.m. and 7:00 a.m. are not counted when calculating these time requirements.

Timely removal is important, as property owners, tenants, and occupants may be held liable for injuries or property damage resulting from snow- or ice-covered sidewalks.

Failure to comply may result in fines, as outlined in Town Code §173-19, with penalties increasing for repeat violations and for properties with greater sidewalk frontage.

We appreciate everyone's cooperation in helping keep our sidewalks safe and walkable for neighbors, pedestrians, and visitors—especially children, seniors, and those with mobility challenges.

Thank you for doing your part and for helping make our town a safe and welcoming place during the winter months.

Warm regards,

Town of Huntington

Strengthening Food Security Through Community Partnership

Community Spotlight: ELC Food Pantry at First Presbyterian Church of Northport

The Town of Huntington Community Development Agency is proud to recognize the ELC Food Pantry at First Presbyterian Church of Northport and extend our sincere appreciation for their generous support of the Agency's Thanksgiving and Christmas Food Distribution initiatives. With the continued support of Supervisor Ed Smyth and the Town Board, partnerships like this remain essential to strengthening food security and supporting families across our community.

First Presbyterian Church of Northport has been a steadfast community partner, donating significantly to the CDA's holiday initiatives and helping ensure that local families have access to nutritious food and essential items during the most critical times of the year. Their contributions directly supported both the Thanksgiving meal distribution and the Christmas Food Drive, making a meaningful impact for residents facing hardship.

Located at 330 Main Street, Northport, the ELC Food Pantry operates from the lower level of First Presbyterian Church, with an entrance just off Main Street. Open Monday through Thursday from 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m., the pantry is thoughtfully organized like a grocery store, allowing enrolled clients to shop once per week with dignity and choice. Available items include non-perishable foods, fresh fruits and vegetables, dairy products, bread, toiletries, and other essential goods. Beyond food distribution, the ELC Food Pantry offers year-round community programs including Adopt-A-Family, Thanksgiving and Easter initiatives, and the annual Easter Sunrise Service.

The pantry serves enrolled residents of Northport, East Northport, Elwood, Greenlawn, and Centerport and is staffed by a dedicated team of volunteers and managers who work collaboratively to maintain a welcoming, supportive environment.

The Community Development Agency is grateful to First Presbyterian Church of Northport, the ELC Food Pantry volunteers, and the broader community whose generosity makes these efforts possible. Together, with the continued leadership of Supervisor Smyth and the Town Board, these partnerships help ensure that no Huntington family goes without support during the holiday season and beyond.

For more information about eligibility, enrollment, and pantry hours, visit elcfoodpantry.org.

Season of Giving: Supporting Huntington Families Through the Holidays

This holiday season, the Town of Huntington Community Development Agency (CDA) proudly coordinated food drives and holiday meal kit distributions for both Thanksgiving and Christmas, helping ensure local families had access to nutritious, complete meals during two of the year's most important holidays.

Through these initiatives, the CDA collected generous food donations and assembled complete Thanksgiving and Christmas meal kits, which were distributed to residents throughout the Township of Huntington. Each meal kit was thoughtfully prepared to support households experiencing food insecurity and to help families celebrate the holidays with dignity and comfort.

Understanding that some residents are unable to travel, the CDA also offered home delivery of meal kits across the township, reaching seniors, individuals with disabilities, and homebound residents who could not leave their homes.

These efforts were made possible with the continued support of Supervisor Ed Smyth and the Huntington Town Board, whose commitment to community-driven initiatives allows the CDA to expand services and reach residents most in need. The CDA also extends sincere thanks for the generous food and monetary donations contributed by the Town Council Members and various Town departments, whose support helped make both holiday food drives and meal distributions possible.

The CDA is grateful to its dedicated staff and volunteers for their tireless work organizing donations, assembling meal kits, and coordinating distributions and deliveries. We also thank the many local businesses, organizations, and community partners whose donations and sponsorships played a vital role in supporting families across the township.

As we look ahead to the new year, the Community Development Agency remains committed to strengthening partnerships and continuing initiatives that support Huntington residents year-round.

LIBERTY 250

Planning for the 250th Anniversary of Independence

Heritage organizations in the Town of Huntington have been working for the past several months to plan and coordinate exhibits and programs to commemorate the 250th anniversary of American Independence.

Last July, the Town Board created a planning committee for the anniversary, comprised of representatives of the many heritage organizations and museums in Huntington. The Committee has been meeting monthly to coordinate programs. The theme of Huntington's celebrations will focus on Liberty.

During the Bicentennial, Huntington adopted the Liberty flag as the official flag of the Town. There were many versions of the Liberty flag throughout the colonies. Huntington's version was created when news of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence reached Huntington on July 22, 1776. Townspeople gathered on the Village Green to hear a reading of the Declaration, which was met with overwhelming support. On the nearby flagpole was a red flag featuring the word "LIBERTY" on one side and "GEORGE III" (the British King) on the reverse. In the upper left corner was the British Union Jack.

The two sides of the flag that flew on Huntington's Liberty Pole prior to Independence

After the reading of the Declaration, the flag was lowered. The British Union Jack was removed from the flag, as was the name "George III." What was left was a red flag proudly bearing word "LIBERTY" in white letters on one side. The discarded elements of the flag were then stuffed into an effigy of King George III that was hung on the gallows. The effigy was also stuffed with gunpowder. It was set afire and exploded. Afterward the crowd gathered at Platt's Tavern across the street where they drank thirteen patriotic toasts to Independence, General Washington, the Continental Congress, etc.

The next month, the new Liberty flag was carried to the Battle of Long Island by the Suffolk County Militia. The poorly trained and inadequately equipped American army was no match for the highly trained British army. The battle was lost, as was the Liberty flag, which was purportedly captured by Hessian troops.

In the lead up to the Bicentennial in 1976, the Town Board designated the Liberty flag as Huntington's official Bicentennial flag. A couple of years later, it was designated as Huntington's official flag. The flag was reproduced, and window decals were printed. It is unknown if any consideration was given to the appropriate typeface for the lettering. A Sans serif type was chosen; however, Sans serif type did not come into use until 1816.

Now as we prepare to celebrate the semiquincentennial of Independence, a more appropriate type face has been selected. Using a Liberty flag from Schenectady and the lettering on local grave markers from the time as a guide, a new typeface has been chosen.

LIBERTY

The Bicentennial Liberty Flag

LIBERTY

The New Liberty Flag

The Liberty flag is the basis for Huntington's 250th anniversary logo. The theme for the celebration also combines the Liberty flag with Huntington's motto, which is "The Town Endures." The theme of our celebration will be "Liberty Endures."

Suffolk County has assembled a 250 Passport book to commemorate this historic occasion. This keepsake book invites residents and visitors alike to explore Long Island's Revolutionary War sites, 18th-century landmarks, special exhibits and events in Suffolk and Nassau counties. Travel through Long Island's historic towns, visit participating museums and heritage sites throughout 2026, and collect a unique commemorative stamp at each stop. When complete, your passport becomes both a personal souvenir and a symbol of America's 250th Anniversary. The passport book was created by the committee as a public service and is sold at no-profit from Amazon.com. The $8.32 charge is for "print on demand" and it is royalty-free. See <https://suffolk250.org/> for more information and links to download or order the Passport.

The Huntington Historical Society has launched an app on Bloomberg Connects that includes short videos about Revolutionary war related sites, events and people. The app can be downloaded onto your cell phone through the App store.

Throughout the year, the Huntington Historical Society will be asking residents what Liberty means to them. It is one of the inalienable rights specified in the Declaration of Independence. The Pledge of Allegiance promises Liberty for all. Patrick Henry demanded Liberty or Death. What does Liberty mean to you? Look for the Historical Society's booth at events such as the Fall Festival as well as at local museums and libraries to share your thoughts as we celebrate 250 years of American Independence.

Throughout 2026, each organization will present its own exhibits and programs. The featured events include a re-enactment by the Order of the Ancient and Honorable Huntington Militia of the day that the Declaration of Independence was first read in Huntington—July 22, 1776. Scheduled for July 18, 2026 (rain date July 19), the event will include a re-enactment of the creation of the Liberty flag as described above as well as an encampment by the Militia on the Village Green, with tours of the Arsenal. Plans are being made for a pre-event parade. Check future editions of The Liberty newsletter for more details.

Another featured event will be the re-dedication of the Nathan Hale memorial on Main Street. The local Daughters of the American revolution chapter are raising funds for restoration of the monument, which was originally dedicated in 1894. Research to clarify the understanding of where and how the country's first spy was captured will be shared at the rededication.

Exhibits planned for the year include:

- Revolutionary Incidents in Huntington: Occupation and Resistance, at the Soldiers & Sailors Memorial Building, opening January 25
- George Washington's Grand Tour of Long Island in 1790 and the Culper Spy Ring, at Town Hall, opening in January
- Becoming the United States: Colonial America to Reconstruction, at the Cold Spring Harbor Library, February 3-26
- Art of the American Revolution, at the Cold Spring Harbor Library, May 4-21
- Early Long Island Furniture and Decorative Arts, at Preservation Long Island Gallery, Cold Spring Harbor, opening in June
- Eclipse of the Sun Now, at Heckscher Museum, opening September 27

Audit & Control:

Safeguarding
Taxpayer Dollars and Earning Top Honors

If the Town's departments are the engine that keeps Huntington moving, the Audit & Control Department is the dashboard — constantly monitoring, measuring, and making sure every dollar is accounted for. In 2025, their work not only kept Huntington on solid financial footing, and it also earned the Town some of the highest recognitions in government finance.

AAA Bond Rating: Proof of Exceptional Financial Health

In July 2025, the Town of Huntington achieved what few municipalities ever do: an Aaa bond rating from Moody's, the highest rating possible. This top-tier rating is a powerful endorsement of the Town's financial strength, careful planning, and responsible management of public funds.

For residents, this isn't just a point of pride — it has a direct impact. A stronger bond rating helps the Town borrow at lower interest rates, which means major projects and infrastructure improvements can be financed more affordably. In other words, Huntington's financial reputation on paper translates into real savings for taxpayers and more room to invest in community needs.

Award-Winning Financial Reporting, Year After Year

2025 was also another banner year for transparency and accountability. The Town of Huntington once again received the Award of Financial Reporting Achievement from the Government Finance Officers Association (GFOA) for its Annual Comprehensive Financial Report for the fiscal year ended 2023.

This marks the Town's twenty-sixth consecutive year receiving this prestigious honor, recognizing that Huntington's financial reports meet the highest national standards for clarity, completeness, and accessibility. The Audit & Control team also submitted the Town's 2024 report for consideration, continuing a long-standing commitment to making financial information understandable and open to the public.

A Distinguished Budget That Puts Residents First

Planning how to allocate public dollars is just as important as tracking how they're spent. In 2025, the Town received the GFOA's Distinguished Budget Presentation Award for the budget beginning January 1, 2025 — the fourteenth consecutive year Huntington has earned this recognition.

This award reflects a budget that does more than list numbers; it clearly communicates the Town's priorities, goals, and long-term vision in a way residents can follow. It shows that Huntington's budget process is not only fiscally responsible, but also transparent and resident focused.

Together, these accomplishments tell a clear story: in 2025, the Audit & Control Department continued to uphold the highest standards of stewardship, ensuring that every tax dollar is managed with care, foresight, and integrity. Their work helps keep Huntington strong — financially stable today, and well-prepared for tomorrow.

ENGINEERING SERVICES:

BUILDING A SAFER, SMARTER HUNTINGTON

Reimagining Parks, Beaches, and Streetscapes

In 2025, Engineering Services continued to reshape the look and feel of our public spaces. At Veterans Park, a new synthetic turf field was completed, giving athletes and families a modern, durable surface that can better withstand heavy use and changing weather. At Crab Meadow Beach, a full playground replacement brought fresh, safer equipment to one of our most beloved waterfront destinations, while upgrades at Gold Star Beach's parking lot improved access and safety for visitors.

Beyond parks, the department tackled critical infrastructure projects such as emergency shoring at the LIRR parking garage and roadway and streetscape work now underway at locations including Broadway-Greenlawn, Cold Spring Harbor, and West Neck Beach. Bulkhead work at Halesite Marina and planned bulkhead replacement at Woodbine Marina are helping protect our shoreline and marine facilities for years to come. These projects reflect a coordinated effort to invest in recreation and resilience across the Town.

From the turf fields where kids play, to the marinas, beaches, roads, and even the water coming out of our taps, Engineering Services was at the center of some of Huntington's most visible improvements in 2025. This department and its divisions spent the year turning plans into projects, projects into finished spaces, and long-term infrastructure needs into real-world solutions residents can see and feel every day.

Bringing Permits and Inspections Into the Digital Age

Behind every new building or renovation in Huntington is a permit — and in 2025, the Building & Housing Division made that process faster, clearer, and far more convenient. In partnership with the Town's Information Technologies Department, the division completed the automation of the building permit process, allowing residents, engineers, architects, and expediters to submit applications entirely online.

What once required paper forms and multiple trips to Town Hall can now be handled from a home or office computer. Turnaround times for applications, permits, and certificates of occupancy have improved, and both staff and applicants can track the status of submissions in real time. For those who prefer in-person assistance, new computer kiosks outside the Building Department help bridge the gap between traditional service and modern technology.

That same spirit of modernization extended to public safety. The Fire Prevention Bureau is on track to perform approximately 2,500 commercial inspections in 2025 — now aided by tools like ArcGIS and the Town's new OpenGov software, which allow inspectors to access project documents in the field and move closer to a fully paperless inspection system. These advances make the process more efficient while supporting the Town's commitment to fire and life safety in every commercial building.

Protecting Water Quality and Reliability in Dix Hills

Perhaps the most essential — and least visible — work took place within the Dix Hills Water District. In 2025, the District continued to invest in preventive maintenance at each plant site, helping ensure mechanical and electrical equipment stays in good working order so that water is available whenever residents need it. At the same time, the District moved forward with the installation of "smart" water meters, enabling remote monitoring and more efficient water management.

On the water quality front, the District advanced several major initiatives to address emerging contaminants. After previously installing an emergency Granular Activated Carbon (GAC) system at Plant 7 to treat PFAS in accordance with state and federal requirements, the Town is now designing and constructing a permanent upgrade at that plant. Work is also underway with engineering consultants to plan for the possible mitigation of 1,4 dioxane at Plants 5 and 8. Plant 3 rehabilitation is nearing completion, and new chlorine and pH monitors are being installed throughout the district to strengthen day-to-day water quality oversight.

Taken together, these efforts show Engineering Services at its best: improving public spaces, modernizing the way we do business, and quietly protecting critical systems beneath our feet and behind our faucets. In 2025, this department helped ensure that Huntington is not only beautiful and functional today, but better prepared for the challenges of tomorrow.

How to Be a Good Dog Owner in Your Community

Owning a dog means having certain responsibilities that come with dog ownership. It also means following the sometimes unspoken rules of dog ownership etiquette and good manners. After all, common courtesy goes a long way in making your dog a welcome member of the neighborhood. For new dog owners, knowing community dog ownership protocols can be tricky at first. It's all too easy to make gaffes that upset your neighbors or offend people at the park. But if you stick to some common-sense guidelines, your dog can be accepted and appreciated throughout your community.

Dog Manners at Home

You set the rules for your dog in your own home. But whatever they are, they shouldn't disturb your neighbors or guests. Here are some considerations for dog manners in your home:

- Prevent jumping on visitors. Some people don't appreciate being jumped on, and it can be dangerous with older people and children as they can be knocked to the ground. Teach your dog to greet by sitting instead. Let your guests know that you'd like them to ignore your dog instead of petting them if they try to jump up.
- Create your dog or confine them to another room when you have guests who are uncomfortable around dogs. Some people would rather not interact with your dog and, in turn, some dogs are bothered by lots of visitors. In these situations, it's less stressful for everybody if your dog is given something to do in their own space.
- Prevent begging for food from visitors. Even for guests who want to socialize with your dog, it can be annoying when your dog begs for scraps. When you're serving food, crate your dog or teach them to go to their place while you eat.

- Discourage excessive barking at postal carriers, delivery people, or other visitors. These people don't know your dog, so the barking may intimidate them. It can also noisy and disruptive to your neighbors if it's more than a brief alert. Instead, try managing barking by keeping your curtains closed, and train a "quiet" cue.

- Keep your dog secure in your yard. A fenced yard is the safest way to protect your dog and keep them from wandering. Make sure your dog can't dig under the fence to get into your neighbor's property or leave your yard.
- Prevent excessive barking in the yard. Don't leave your dog outside unattended for long periods. That's a ticket to boredom barking. You can use that "quiet" cue you worked on for indoor barking here, too.

BARK TO BASICS

(Tips from The American Kennel Club)

Dog Manners in Your Neighborhood

As soon as you leave the house with your dog, you're sharing space with others who may or may not be dog lovers. Keep the following tips in mind while you're out with your dog:

- Pick up your dog's poop. Always be prepared with several poop bags. If you run out or accidentally forget, come back as soon as possible to clean up. Your dog's business is not your neighbor's responsibility. Discourage your dog from peeing on your neighbors' lawns or lifting their leg on their property (like car tires).
- Keep your dog on a leash wherever leashes are required. It's the law in many places, but it's also good manners. Even if your dog has great recall and rarely leaves your side, leash laws still apply to you and your dog. Other people have no idea about your dog's temperament, and they might be walking a dog with reactivity or anxiety issues, or they may be afraid of dogs themselves. Keep off-leash time for the dog park or other where it's both safe and allowed.
- Keep your dog close when you pass other people or dogs. You want to respect other people's personal space. Plus, the leash can be a tripping hazard. If your dog is reactive or nervous around other dogs or people, cross the street to give everyone more space.
- Ask permission before allowing your dog to greet people or dogs. If somebody says no, respect their answer regardless of how friendly or excited your dog may be. If they say yes, be sure you've taught your dog how to greet politely. Overly enthusiastic greetings can be off-putting to both people and dogs.

Dog Manners in the Community

It's fun to take your dog with you to a pet store, outdoor sporting event, or friend's house. But you want your dog to be a welcome guest rather than a nuisance. Here's how:

- Get permission before taking your dog to a friend's or families house. From allergies to fears, there are all kinds of reasons your dog might not be welcome, regardless of how well-behaved they are.
- Bring an interactive toy to keep your dog entertained. Bored dogs get into trouble creating their own fun, so keep your dog appropriately occupied.
- Take your dog for a potty break before heading out. This will help prevent accidents and marking behavior.
- Exercise your dog before your visit. A tired dog tends to be more relaxed and better behaved.

Train Your Dog to Be a Good Citizen

Following these simple rules of etiquette and manners is beneficial for you, your dog, and all dog owners. After all, you are the one who is ultimately responsible for your dog.

Paws of War was founded on a simple belief: no hero should ever face their battles alone—whether they walk on two legs or four. Since 2014, we've been healing the invisible wounds of veterans, first responders, and their families by placing loyal service dogs by their side. These dogs are more than companions—they're lifelines, bringing hope, independence, and strength when it's needed most.

Our mission extends to animals in desperate need, rescuing dogs and cats from war zones, disaster sites, and overcrowded shelters—often reuniting them with the very heroes who once saved them.

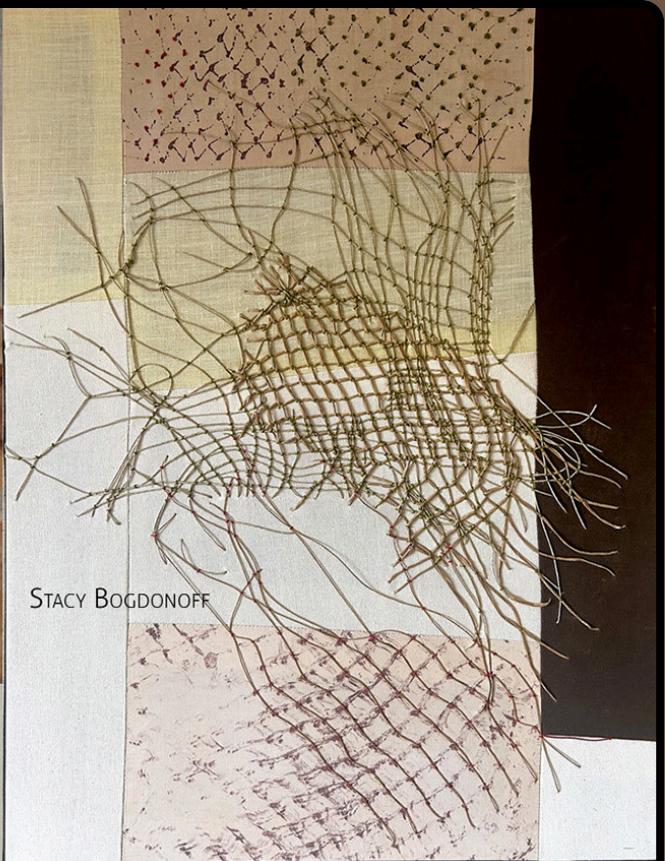

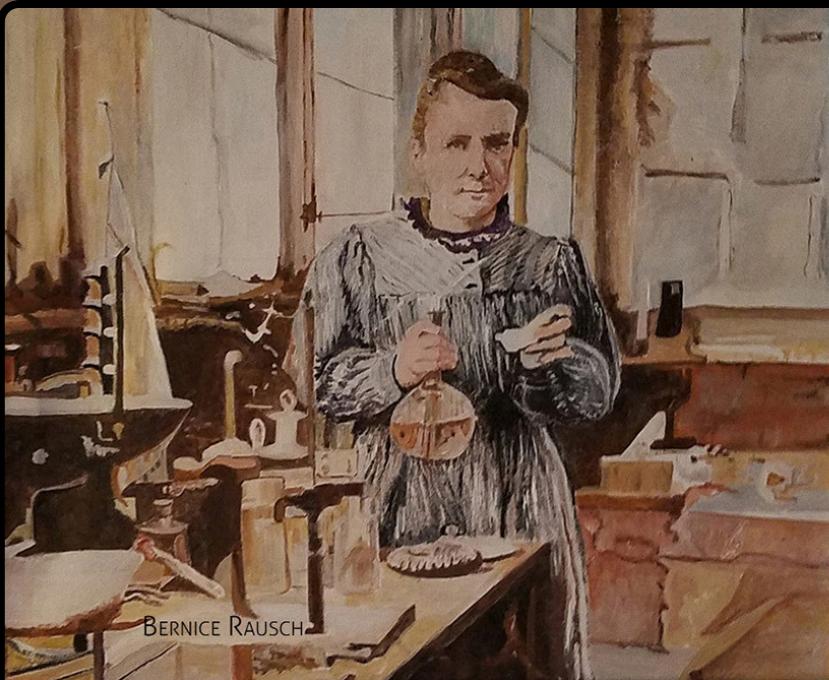

To date, we've trained over 300 service dog teams, rescued and rehabilitated 450+ animals, and dedicated 68,000 volunteer hours to building a community of trust and healing. Every service we offer—from training and mobile vet clinics to lifetime care for retired military working dogs—is provided at no cost to those who've already sacrificed so much.

From a veteran's first embrace with their service dog to a soldier's reunion with a rescued pet, these are the moments that define Paws of War.

Together with our supporters, we're not just saving lives—we're rewriting them.

Paws of War: Helping both ends of the leash, because every hero deserves a companion—and every companion deserves a chance.

CENTRAL PARK'S BETHESDA FOUNTAIN VISITS HECKSCHER PARK

*Immersive AR Experience Coincides with Groundbreaking Exhibition
Emma Stebbins: Carving Out History*

The Heckscher Museum of Art, in partnership with the Central Park Conservancy—the nonprofit organization that manages Central Park—brings Emma Stebbins' iconic Bethesda Fountain to life in Heckscher Park, Huntington, through an Augmented Reality (AR) experience. Visitors will be able to use their smartphones to experience the full monument in this new setting. The immersive experience will allow visitors to look thoughtfully at Stebbins's magnificent work as they take a 360-degree virtual walk around the entire monument. This one-of-a kind event coincides with the seminal exhibition, Emma Stebbins: Carving Out History.

"Over 42 million people visit Central Park's fountain each year, but prior to this exhibition, few have known the name of its creator, Emma Stebbins. The Heckscher Museum's current exhibition aims to change that by shedding new light on the artist's much-forgotten work and story," said Heather Arnet, Executive Director and CEO. "As the Bethesda Fountain is one of Stebbins most familiar works, it was imperative for the Museum to find a way to incorporate this iconic work into the exhibition."

The exhibition devotes a gallery to exploring the central role the Bethesda Fountain has played serving as a convening space, cultural hub, cinematic icon, beacon for tourists, and inspiration to other artists, like Tony Kushner, who placed the Bethesda Fountain at the center of his Pulitzer Prize winning play Angels in America, and who wrote a foreword for the exhibition catalogue. After visiting the exhibition, visitors will be able to experience the spectacular monument just a few feet outside the Museum doors.

"For more than 150 years, Bethesda Fountain has been a centerpiece of Central Park and one of its most treasured landmarks," said Central Park Conservancy President & CEO Betsy Smith. "The Conservancy is proud to help preserve this iconic work for future generations, and we are grateful to the Heckscher Museum for partnering with us to elevate the legacy of Emma Stebbins. This experience offers visitors a meaningful new way to appreciate her remarkable artistry and the Fountain's enduring place in the Park's history."

Through the Bethesda Fountain AR experience, the Heckscher is demonstrating thought leadership in finding new ways Museums can utilize digital media to engage visitors, add interactivity to exhibitions, and bring neoclassical works to life in new ways. In 1863, Emma Stebbins became the first woman commissioned to create a public monument in New York City. A decade later, the Bethesda Fountain, sometimes known as Angel of the Waters, was unveiled in the plaza at the heart of the newly constructed Central Park. Through this AR partnership project, The Heckscher Museum of Art and Central Park Conservancy, along with supporting partners Art Bridges, Khora, and Direct Dimensions, are expanding the possibilities for public art.

For the best AR viewing, visitors can use the QR codes easily accessible on Museum signage in park areas in front of the Museum in Heckscher Park. Look for the Emma Stebbins AR in Apple or Google App Stores.

Exhibition

The exhibition at the Heckscher Museum, is the first to recognize Emma Stebbins (1815–1882) as one of the most significant American sculptors of the nineteenth century. While her Bethesda Fountain has been a global icon for 150 years, the full scope of Stebbins's life and work had become buried by history till the curatorial team at the Heckscher unearthed the depth of Stebbins vast transatlantic career. From 1857 to 1870, she created innovative sculptures while living in Rome with her wife, renowned Shakespearean actress Charlotte Cushman, who championed her career. Stebbins modeled inventive and incisive interpretations of literary and biblical subjects, unprecedented allegories of American industry, and notable portraits of her friends and family.

Emma Stebbins: Carving Out History brings together most of the artist's rare extant work, including a portrait drawing and several sculptures that will be on public view for the first time in a century. Stebbins completed the Bethesda Fountain to celebrate the Croton Aqueduct, which brought clean drinking water to New York City. The inclusion of paintings and photographs by historic and contemporary artists including William Merritt Chase, Martha Edelheit, and Ricky Flores attest to its enduring relevance as a monument to health, healing, and peace.

The exhibition is curated by Karli Wurzelbacher, PhD, Chief Curator of The Heckscher Museum of Art, which stewards the largest collection of Stebbins's work. An extensive scholarly publication with a foreword by Pulitzer- and Tony-award winning playwright Tony Kushner accompanies the exhibition.

The Heckscher Museum of Art is grateful to The Town of Huntington and the Town of Huntington Board of Trustees and Suffolk County Department of Economic Development & Planning for their generous support of the arts.

TRASH & RECYCLING INFO

WORKER SAFETY

Did you know that your refuse collection truck picks up over 1,300 homes per day and 2,600 homes on a recycling day? On an average day, your collection crew will pick up over 5,200 items. On a bulk day, your second garbage day of the week, the item count is even more than that.

Placing a quantity and weight limit for items at the curb helps to ensure that the route can get collected within the workday, and reduces the chances of injury to workers during collection.

Below are common reasons workers get injured on the refuse/recycling collection route:

- Cuts and life threatening lacerations from sharp items such as broken glass or mirrors hidden in a plastic bag. All broken glass and mirrors should be placed in a cardboard box, securely taped and labeled, "BROKEN GLASS."
- Lifting injury from overweight or oversized cans or items.
- Puncture wounds from wood/lumber with nails in it.
- Needles and Syringes improperly placed in trash (see page 23 for more information).
- Scrapes/scratches from items protruding more than 12 inches over the rim of the can.
- Hazardous household chemicals hidden in with trash (see page 17 for more information). Disposing of chemicals in your curbside garbage poses both a health and safety risk to the crew and collection vehicles and is prohibited by Town Code §117-27 (E)(2).
- Injury from another vehicle trying to go around the collection vehicle
